Have we made God too safe? Too familiar?

How could a radical commitment to justice and hospitality make the difference in our homes, churches and communities?

As part of Redcliffe College's MA Summer School, Krish Kandiah joins us to explore the times where God shows up unannounced, unrecognised and uninvited, and where His ways are strange to us.

Join us for this stimulating and important event, which will also feature brief responses from Adele Owen, Director of Gloucestershire Action for Refugees and Asylum Seekers (GARAS), and Redcliffe's Dr Tim Davy, who co-leads the Centre for the Study of Bible and Mission. A voluntary offering will be taken during the evening, with the proceeds going towards the work of GARAS, and Home for Good.

The evening will be held in the Chapter House of Gloucester Cathedral. Please aim to arrive shortly after 7pm for a 7.30pm start. Refreshments will be provided during the evening and we expect the event to finish at 9.30pm.

Admission is free, but space is limited and we will be operating a guestlist. You are strongly encouraged to register in advance at godisstranger.eventbrite.com.

Dr Krish Kandiah is the founder of Home for Good, a fostering and adoption charity, and is the Vice President of Tearfund. An award-winning author, broadcaster, theologian and spokesman for the Christian community, Krish was a keynote speaker at Spring Harvest this year.

God is Stranger, published by Hodder & Stoughton, is the latest book by Krish Kandiah, in which he takes us through biblical stories of God turning up in surprising ways and through surprising people, and explores the implications for our families, churches and communities today.

J. John writes, "This is an urgent, powerful and prophetic book that has the potential to change your life forever. Full of passion, biblical insight and real-world application, it demands not just to be read but to be acted on."

Copies of the book will be available for purchase at the event.
